

ImageAgency INTERSERV

Web-based input server gateway for all image agencies

SigiStudio ImageAgency INTERSERV is a comfortable input server gateway for all image agencies like e. g. AP, DPA and Reuters. Using a web-based user interface, new media can be accessed from all host computers (PC, MAC, UNIX) without the need to install special client software. You only need an internet browser software like MS internet explorer, firefox or similar. During import procedure all new media will be analysed. The original format will be stored without any changes.

SigiStudio ImageAgency INTERSERV creates broadcast formatted representations of originals (e.g. 720 x 576/486 4:3 with square pixels, 1280 x 720 or 1920 x 1080 16:9 with square pixels) and corresponding preview formats automatically, which can be displayed with correct aspect ratio on PC or MAC using internet browser software.

All metadata, included in IPTC files, will be analysed and transferred into a full text database system. You are able to access immediately new media and to select interesting images of current affairs. The result screen will be refreshed periodically and new media will be always presented on top.

If you want to use selected media, you are able to transfer the complete original file or to cut out a detail, according to a specified broadcast format, which can be converted to a variety of file types.
